Sherma Andrews' tribute show to Legendary Lady Singers is a dynamic blast of entertainment worth seeing over and over again! Live on stage at USCB Center for the Arts on Saturday, March 21 at 7:30 pm, Sherma's show, featuring her with a 5-piece band celebrate Legendary Lady Singers whose amazing lives and iconic hits are known and loved by audiences everywhere. It's the music of Whitney Houston, Diana Ross, Aretha Franklin, Tina Turner, Sade, Donna Summer, Natalie Cole, Etta James, Billie Holiday, Anita Baker, Beyonce and more.

Sherma Andrews is a gifted singer, songwriter, recording artist, arranger and pianist and former faculty member at Boston's prestigious Berklee College of Music who has performed at major worldwide festivals including Switzerland's Montreux Jazz Festival, and has worked with major stars such as Britney Spears, Branford Marsalis, Enrique Iglesias, Donna Summer and many others. While touring with Enrique Iglesias, Sherma replaced Whitney Houston to sing their duet hit, Could I Have this Kiss Forever? Iglesias says Andrews "sings like an angel."
